

I think tonight is the night I leave the sorrow behind and I dance till the stars go off I'm breaking free of the fight, your empty seat on my mind is 'bout to be overthrown overnight
And I see your face everywhere I go,
I'll just find a place where you don't belong.

I'm taking off without you, babe
I'll breathe the air, I'll ride the waves

I think today is the day I push the darkness away and I turn my face up to the sky
The lion's showing the way, his fiery mane is ablaze, he knows I'm just learning to fly
You're not one of those who were meant to stay
You just stood and stared, before you ran away

I'm taking off without you, babe
I'll breathe the air, I'll ride the waves
The forest's green, the river wild
I'm feeling free just like a child

Get up, move away from all that holds you back, Lionheart, you can fight it.
Life happens in the line of fire, oh oh oh

I'm taking off without you, babe
I'll breathe the air, I'll ride the waves
The forest's green, the river wild
I'm feeling free just like a child

Lionheart
